I am looking for a challenging, growth oriented position in an established, reputable company, where my 24 years of construction and management experience can be utilized to the fullest.

R&W Framing April 1984 – March 1989

Started as a laborer and advanced to carpenter and then to foreman. As foreman, I oversaw the procurement of all materials, supervised our crews, scheduled the field and coordinated closely with other trades.

Armstrong Construction March 1989 – May 1998

While providing a supervisory presence on the job site, I also performed the material take-offs from blue prints, handled material procurement, prepared and enforced all construction schedules and coordinated all work with our subcontractors. Moreover, I attended all job site meetings and met with building inspectors, engineers, architects and project officials from the inception of the project to its timely completion.

Peters Construction May 1998 – January 2002

I created and followed job leads, met with and coordinated all clients and coordinated with architects as our client's representative on design build projects. Additional duties included estimating, construction scheduling, coordinating and interviewing subcontractors, procurement of all materials and meeting with building inspectors, engineers, architects and project officials from the inception of the project to its timely completion..

M.T. Luster Construction January 2002 – August 2008

I started this company on my own and I have overseen its successful growth over the past six years. As owner, I have had the opportunity to learn the intricacies of the office / financial side of the business while also developing my leadership / managerial qualities. Dealing with the many diverse personalities in both the office and the field has afforded me a wealth of experience not only in business, but also in relationships.

I am a very aggressive, organized and hard working individual. I possess excellent communication skills and the ability to overcome obstacles that arise during the course of a project. I can provide impeccable references on request.
